Operating Budget: $2,534,603 Purchase of Maintenance, Repair and Operating Supplies from Various Vendors – Subject to Funding
RESOLVED, that the School Reform Commission authorizes The School District of Philadelphia, through the Superintendent or his designee, to execute, deliver and perform contracts with various vendors listed on the attached spreadsheet, with all vendors as needed per Costars 8, pursuant to Resolution No. A-8, approved by the School Reform Commission on December 19, 2013, as well as with City of Philadelphia vendors per City-wide contract, to purchase Maintenance, Repair and Operating Supplies, for an amount not to exceed $2,534,603, subject to funding.

Description: Facilities Management utilizes Just-In-Time materials supply system, also known as Over-the-Counter Operations, for its Maintenance and Repair Division allowing maintenance mechanics to pick up approved supplies at multiple contracted vendor stores at the specific time the materials are needed. This process was developed and implemented because it is difficult to store a wide array of maintenance supplies in a single warehousing facility and a single warehousing facility brings logistical issue to the maintenance mechanics that have to serve more than 300 locations within the boundary of the City of Philadelphia. This process was also developed in order to avoid surplus materials which could become costly when working within a lean budget.

Facilities has developed a multi-level administrative approval chain and four-way matching (work order / invoice / purchase order / packing slip) payment review process to ensure a strong internal control around this initiative. The Department reduced its maintenance supplies spending from $5.1 million in FY10 to $3.5 million, or 31% over FY10 level, in FY14 through a robust internal control system.

Operating Budget: $33,000 Contract Amendment with PMA Management Corporation – Administration of Workers Compensation Program
RESOLVED, that the School Reform Commission authorizes The School District of Philadelphia, through the Superintendent or his designee, to execute, deliver, and perform an amendment of Contract No. 1112/F14, originally entered into with PMA Management Corp, pursuant to Resolution No. A-26, approved by the School Reform Commission on May 29, 2014, by increasing the amount of the contract by an additional $33,000 from $3,300,000 approved by Resolution A-26, to an amount not to exceed $3,333,000, to pay for increased personnel, operating, and administrative costs.

Description: In December 2013, the School District released RFP 371 seeking bids from potential vendors to administer its Workers’ Compensation program. Two firms, including the incumbent, submitted timely proposals. An evaluation committee with representatives from the School District’s offices of Risk, Finance, Employee Benefits, and Procurement Services, along with Conner Strong & Buckelew, who was contracted to assist with the proposal evaluations, reviewed the proposals. Based on the evaluation of the proposals, presentations, costs and discussions among the committee members, it was the recommendation of the committee to retain PMA as the School District’s TPA. PMA was selected because of the strength in administration of the Workers’ Compensation program; its success in the Return to Work program; and the attention to a safety program which helps avoid worker’ compensation claims and the associated costs.

The winning proposal included a 3% price inflator in year three of the contract which was inadvertently omitted from the originally adopted resolution.

20 schools. Six Philadelphia elementary schools are also implementing SWPBIS through a two-year grant from Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia (CHOP). In addition, Philadelphia’s designation as one of the cities chosen for School-Wide Positive Behavioral Intervention and Supports (SWPBIS) in (10) K-8 elementary and middle schools policies; generate additional data, which will strengthen SDP’s position to apply for additional funding; provide on school-wide systems of support that include proactive strategies for defining, teaching, and supporting education – School Climate Transformation; $480,000 Contract with Devereux Center for Effective Schools

SDP has developed and cultivated the relationships necessary to implement its multi-tiered behavioral framework and get the necessary technical assistance for fidelity and sustainability. SDP has partnered with Devereux’s Center for Effective Schools (CES), whose mission is to build capacity in schools for serving children with, or at-risk for developing, emotional and behavioral disorders through training, consultation, new model program development, and applied research.

The efforts outlined for the expansion and sustainability of multi-tiered behavioral frameworks are linked to ongoing school reform efforts and are among the four anchor goals in Action Plan 2.0., released earlier this year. One of those goals, to “develop a system of excellent schools,” includes the strategy: “providing students with an environment conducive to learning by implementing and maintaining safety and climate plans that incorporate evidence-based programs.”

One of the Office of Research and Evaluation most advances in the study of school-wide discipline is the emphasis on school-wide systems of support that include proactive strategies for defining, teaching, and supporting appropriate student behaviors to create positive school environments. A continuum of positive behavior support for all students within a school is implemented in areas including both the classroom and non-classroom settings (such as hallways, buses, and restrooms). SWPBIS is an application of a behaviorally-based systems approach to enhance the capacity of schools, families, and communities to design effective environments that improve the link between research-validated practices and the environments in which teaching and learning occurs. Attention is focused on creating and sustaining primary (school-wide), secondary (classroom), and tertiary (individual) systems of support that improve lifestyle results (personal, health, social, family, work, recreation) for all children and youth by making targeted negative behaviors less effective, efficient, and relevant, and desired behavior Office of Research and Evaluation functional.

This plan as conceived by the grant application proposes an ambitious system change and improvement in SDP schools. The chosen multi-tiered behavioral frameworks will assist in the development and redesign of discipline policies; generate additional data, which will strengthen SDP’s position to apply for additional funding; provide professional development opportunities and necessary coaching; and increase interagency coordination for providing services.

This proposed plan allows SDP to develop a cadre of trained and experienced staff to provide training and ongoing coaching to school leadership teams on our chosen multi-tiered behavioral frameworks. The Devereux Center for Effective Schools (CES) will be hired for Years 1–4 to provide training to coaches and school staff and technical assistance for PBIS. PBIS Coaches will provide prevention activities in schools and assist school staff with climate development of local implementation capacity. The goals of implementation coaching are to: 1) support implementation of evidence-based practices following training; 2) embed the skills related to the practice/program/process within the school; 3) ensure fidelity of the practice – coach feedback informs action toward implementation fidelity; and 4) provide feedback to the training processes. An additional 28 schools will implement PBIS at the end of this grant period. The grant is presented as a ratification because the funds were received promptly on October 1, 2014, the first day of the federal fiscal year and the Department of Education required the project managers to immediately attend a grants management meeting in Chicago. Grant funds were used for travel and accommodations to the meeting.

RESOLVED, that the School Reform Commission authorizes The School District of Philadelphia, through the Superintendent or his designee, to accept with appreciation, the donation of design, installation and other services related to the installation and maintenance of a native plant meadow in front of Cook-Wissahickon School, valued at approximately $52,640, from the Wissahickon Sustainability Council, for the period commencing November 21, 2014 through December 31, 2016, the design, installation, and maintenance of the meadow by the Wissahickon Sustainability Council and its contractors which must be acceptable to the Office of Capital Programs and the Office of Facilities Management, and be it

FURTHER RESOLVED, that the School Reform Commission authorizes The School District of Philadelphia, through the Superintendent or his designee, to execute a Right of Entry and License and any other necessary documents with the Wissahickon Sustainability Council and its contractors to install and supervise the installation of the meadow at Cook Wissahickon School, and to enter into such other documents necessary to further the intent of this Resolution, in forms acceptable to the Office of Capital Programs, the Office of Facilities Management, the Office of Risk Management, and the Office of General Counsel.

Description: Cook-Wissahickon School is a diverse, vibrant, and highly successful K - 8 public school located in the northwest portion of Philadelphia. Because of its proximity to Fairmount Park, Cook Wissahickon represents an ideal opportunity to extend park habitat and build a “greenway” into the neighborhood. In 2008, a group of parents, staff, students, and community members, formed the “Green Committee” as an offshoot of Cook’s active Home and School Association, seeking to undertake a greening initiative in the school. In 2009, with the approval of The School District of Philadelphia, the Green Committee incorporated as the Wissahickon Sustainability Council, a nonprofit company in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and was recognized as a 501(c)(3) charitable organization by the Internal Revenue Service. Also in 2008, we applied for and received a grant from the Community Design Collaborative of Philadelphia. Through this grant, Viridian Landscape Studio, a local landscape architecture firm, helped us create our Sustainable Master Landscape Plan, which is the embodiment of our vision for Cook-Wissahickon. Highlights of the plan include: a butterfly garden; an outdoor classroom; a native orchard; removal and replacement of the chain link fence; removal of non-porous pavements and asphalt to improve stormwater management; and a green roof. A significant part of the comprehensive plan involves the installation of a native plant meadow in front of the school. The first half of the meadow was approved the SRC and installed in 2012. With this resolution, WSC is requesting permission to install the other half of the meadow. These meadows are beautifying our campus, enhancing storm water infiltration, and attracting birds and other wildlife from adjacent Fairmount Park, thereby extending the habitats of the park onto our campus. A portion of the meadow will also house an outdoor classroom for students. The specifics of the project for this resolution include the preparation, installation, and maintenance of a 3300 square foot native meadow. The total cost of the project, including matching funds, is estimated to be $52,640 and services are to be donated through the Wissahickon Sustainability Council.

Categorical/Grant Fund: $196,423,850 Grant Acceptance from the U.S. Department of Health & Human Services Administration for Children & Families – Preschool Programs
RESOLVED, that the School Reform Commission authorizes The School District of Philadelphia, through the Superintendent or his designee, to accept, if awarded, a Head Start Re-Competition Grant from the U.S. Department of Health & Human Services’ Administration for Children & Families, for an amount not to exceed $196,423,850, to provide comprehensive early childhood health, development, and educational services to nearly 5,000 age- and income-eligible children and their families throughout the City of Philadelphia, for the period commencing July 1, 2015 to June 30, 2020.

Description: The School District of Philadelphia’s Prekindergarten Head Start (PKHS) program currently provides comprehensive educational and supportive services to over 6,000 three- and four-year-old children and their families. The program is offered in both District schools and at partner-managed childcare centers throughout the city. As a grantee of the federal Administration for Children and Families (ACF), Office of Head Start, the District’s PKHS program is governed by federal regulations and policies including the Head Start Act of 2007 and the Head Start Performance Standards, in which all required programs and services are delineated.

The District’s Office of Early Childhood Education (OECE) has worked collaboratively with the local PKHS Policy Council, the federal Office of Head Start, and PDE’s Office of Child Development & Early Learning over the past several years to establish partnerships with a broad array of exemplary community-based child-serving organizations to provide the Head Start program at locations they independently staff and manage. The District’s contractual relationship with high-quality, community-based early childhood education and care providers is a significant aspect of the design and management of the pre-k programs administered by OECE, and through a recent series of competitive bidding processes (i.e., RFQs & RFPs) this component has grown to include approximately three dozen such partner agencies that deliver comprehensive Head Start services to over 4,000 children across the city. The District regularly and routinely re-issues an RFQ to solicit additional high quality providers in order to ensure that all neighborhoods of the city are adequately and appropriately served.

In 2012, ACH embarked upon a national recompetition for Head Start grantees in a total of 197 geographic regions across the nation, ranging from small organization to grantees as large as New York City’s Administration for Children’s Services and Los Angeles County Office of Education. Philadelphia’s recompetition application was issued on September 24, 2014, and is due to ACS on November 24, 2014. The School District intends to submit a funding proposal commensurate with the retention and continued operation of nearly 4,900 service slots, approximately two thirds of which would be located in facilities staffed and managed by community-based partner agencies. As a consequence, OECE will be orchestrating a Request for Qualifications process in January 2015 in order to certify new and additional prospective partners for the anticipated defined award period July 1, 2015 to June 30, 2020.

Categorical/Grant Fund: $1,500,000 Ratification of Acceptance of Innovative Approaches to Literacy Grant from the U.S. Department of Education/$114,915 Contract Ratification with the Free Library of Philadelphia – Coordination and Management of Book Distribution, Online Support and Community Based Literacy Activities

RESOLVED, that the School Reform Commission hereby ratifies the acceptance by The School District of Philadelphia, through the Superintendent, of a Innovative Approaches to Literacy (IAL) grant from the U.S. Department of Education, for an amount not to exceed $1,500,000, to provide literacy-related professional development, materials/equipment, and family engagement activities in 10 of the District’s elementary schools, for the period commencing October 1, 2014 through September 30, 2017; and be it

RESOLVED, that the School Reform Commission hereby ratifies the execution, delivery and performance by The School District of Philadelphia, through the Superintendent, of a contract with the Free Library of Philadelphia (FLP), for an amount not to exceed $114,915, to coordinate and manage book distribution, on-line support from local librarians, and community-family literacy activities, for the period commencing October 1, 2014 through September 30, 2017.

Description: In coordinated pursuit of the District’s Anchor Goal #2, ensuring that every child is a proficient reader no later than age 8, the School District of Philadelphia and the Free Library of Philadelphia (FLP) worked together to craft a funding proposal in response to the U.S. Department of Education’s recent Innovative Approaches to Literacy (IAL) grant competition, which is designed to meet the following objectives in 10 of the District’s lowest-performing elementary schools: (a) improve curriculum and instruction for students; (b) re-invigorate student learning environments, especially in light of the loss of library staff in many of our schools; and (c) train and meaningfully engage parents and caregivers in the improvement of their children’s literacy skills. Key leadership and program personnel from both the District and FLP see the resulting, collaborative “Building Bridges with Books: Uniting Schools, Public Libraries and Families” (or “B3”) initiative as the perfect environment in which to deepen their existing relationship, and intend to achieve the various mission objectives noted above through the following series of activities:

• Provide a broad array of high-quality early literacy activities to students in grades K-1 during the program’s inaugural year, and then to (many of the same) students in grades 1-2 during the second implementation period;

• Leverage the existing library space in District schools by updating the physical collection with age- and grade-appropriate books and other literacy resources, and also by creating a digital learning environment for students through the introduction of computerized tablets connected to FLP’s digital content—including over 1,000 high-quality titles suitable for the early elementary level—as well as terminals that participating students can use to reserve books from any FLP branch and/or chat with a certified librarian;

• Provide student participants (in grades K-1 for Year One and grades 1-2 in Year Two) on-going access to certified children’s librarians through the performance of bi-monthly trips to a neighborhood FLP branch. In addition, certified FLP librarians will visit each of the 10 target schools on a weekly basis to help teachers in the pilot program better utilize the new and innovative resources offered within the carefully augmented library space; and

• Meaningfully engage parents with children participating in the 10-site pilot program by providing them with a sequenced early literacy training program at FLP and bi-monthly reading sessions hosted by their respective schools.

Since key District decision-makers did not become fully aware of our agency’s eligibility for available IAL funding and its transformative potential until fairly late along the application development timeline, they had to respond quickly and decisively to ensure that this tremendous opportunity did not slip away. With the recent announcement from federal reviewers that the resulting grant proposal—which pledges to foster literacy development among some of our neediest young students through innovative utilization of historically overlooked physical library spaces within their struggling schools—was in fact successful and had officially started retroactive to October 1, 2014, it became necessary for compliance purposes to begin engaging our approved lead partner, FLP, prior to receiving formal SRC authorization to enter into a contractual relationship, thereby necessitating the current ratification request.

ABC Code/Funding Source $1,500,000.00

In response to comments made by Deborah Grill, Diane Castelbuono, Deputy Chief, Early Childhood Education, stated that if the grant was used to fund full-time librarians, the District would only be able to serve twelve (12) schools for one year. The District would not be able to sustain the positions. Ms. Castelbuono stated that by using the funds in this manner, the District can fund ten (10) schools over a three year period, as well as purchase materials. In response to Commissioner Houstoun, Ms. Castelbuono confirmed that $115,000 is going to the Free Library of Philadelphia.

Categorical/Grant Fund: $7,700 Contract Amendment with AARP Experience Corps – Tutoring and Mentoring Program

RESOLVED, that the School Reform Commission authorizes The School District of Philadelphia, through the Superintendent or his designee, to execute, deliver, and perform an amendment of a contract with AARP Experience Corps, originally authorized pursuant to Resolution No. B-21, approved by the School Reform Commission on June 19, 2014, and further amended pursuant to Resolution B-8, approved by the School Reform Commission on October 16, 2014, by increasing the amount of the contract by an additional $7,700 from the $139,650 approved by Resolutions B-21 and B-8, to an amount not to exceed $147,350.

Description: The primary objective of this particular resolution is to provide additional funding beyond the $139,650 originally authorized by resolutions B-21 of June 19, 2014 and B-8 of October 16, 2014 to Experience Corps AARP in order to expand the availability of tutoring and mentoring services for K-3 students to Francis Scott Key School, General George C. Meade School, Olney Elementary School, Rowen Elementary School and Lewis C. Cassidy Academics Plus School. In order to provide struggling students reading support, these schools were able to reallocate school funds to prioritize literacy. Francis Scott Key School and Rowen Elementary School program fees are fully covered by an external school sponsor; therefore, no costs will be incurred by these two schools.

In each of the now 17 participating schools teams of 5 to 15 for a total of 105 reading/literacy tutors ages 50+ will deliver 5 hours of school-based tutoring services 2 to 3 days per week from October 2014 to May 2015 at their assigned school sites. The goal is to help struggling K-3 students achieve grade level reading proficiency before they enter fourth grade.

The program follows an eight-month, 30-week schedule in the schools. Volunteers will deliver 5 hours of school-based tutoring services 2 to 3 days per week from October 2014 to May 2015 at their assigned school sites. Throughout the 35 week program period, each individual child selected by the host schools will take part in 2 to 3 weekly tutoring and mentoring sessions for a total of 70 to 75 tutoring and mentoring sessions. A typical volunteer donates at least 300 tutoring hours per year. In 2013-2014, 115 volunteers collectively donated over 35,000 hours of tutoring in District schools.

Each host school will assist in the facilitation of AARP Experience Corps volunteer tutors in the school and in the classroom; make available time for participating teachers to meet throughout the year with AARP Experience Corps staff; provide instructional materials as needed; assist in recognition of AARP Experience Corps volunteer tutors and provide guidance and support for tutors. In addition, teachers will complete a year-end evaluation and pre and post tutoring assessments for each participating student.

After a successful year of tutoring and mentoring the Office of Early Childhood Education supports AARP Experience Corps and their services for early literacy in grades K-3.

AARP Experience Corps was selected through the RFP Process. The term of RFP #333 was set for October 1, 2012 to June 30, 2013 amended by the addition of two (2) one year options to extend the contract through June 30, 2014 to June 30, 2015. No other vendors applied under the RFP Process.
