Mission & Approach to Learning:

Frankford High School is a collaborative setting engaging all stakeholders in an inspirational and respectful learning environment that prepares students to be productive global citizens.

Points of Pride:

This year we are most proud to announce that our first cohort of students in our new Aviation Program will begin their paths toward becoming certified pilots by the time they graduate from Frankford.

Home of:

- Championship athletic teams in badminton, football, soccer, baseball, basketball, field hockey and cheerleading. Most recently, the Boys Baseball Team followed up their 2017 City Championship run with a third consecutive Public League Championship.
- Many outstanding scholars including two Superbowl Champions: Jahri Evans of the Super Bowl Champion New Orleans Saints—a graduate of the class of 2001 and the recipient of the 2010 Pioneer Award—and Zaire Anderson of the Denver Broncos
- Unique treasures such as an award-winning Culinary Arts Department, featured in the documentary “Pressure Cooker” and on the Rachael Ray Show in May 2010
- The only functioning pipe organ in the School District of Philadelphia
- Award-winning JROTC program.
