

Tips for Affirmative Language

	✗ AVOID	✓ USE
GENDER EXPRESSION androgynous feminine masculine gender non-conforming ...and many more!	"Looks like a man/male/woman/female" "Acts like a man/male/woman/female" "Has a male/female presentation" "Presents as a male/female"	"Expresses themselves in a [gender expression] way" "Has a [gender expression] gender expression"
ASSIGNED SEX intersex female male ...and many more!	"Born a male/female" "Has a male/female body" "Biologically male/female" "Anatomically male/female"	"Was assigned [sex] at birth"
	"Opposite sex" "Both sexes"	"Another sex" "All sexes", "All bodies"
GENDER IDENTITY genderqueer agender bigender nonbinary two spirit (trans/cis) woman (trans/cis) man gender non-conforming genderfluid third gender ...and many more!	"Gender preferences/prefers" Transgender as a noun/verb: (i.e. "a transgender," "transgenders," "transgendered." etc.)	Transgender as an adjective ("transgender people," "trans communities," "a trans woman," etc.)
	"Decided that they were [gender identity]" "Chose to be [gender identity]" "Feels like they are [gender identity]" "Used to be [gender identity]"	"[Name] is [gender identity]" Note: Be sure to use a trans person's current, correct name & pronouns, even if you're talking about them in the past tense.
	"Getting a sex change/'the surgery'" "Changing to [gender identity]"	"[Name] is transitioning" "[Name] is pursuing gender-affirming care"
	He or she* Husband or wife/Boyfriend or girlfriend Man or woman Mom/dad Sister/brother	They Spouse/Partner/Significant Other, etc. Person Parent Sibling *Note: Use they/them if your goal is to be affirming and/or gender neutral in general. If someone doesn't use they/them pronouns, use the person's correct pronouns.
SEXUAL ORIENTATION asexual gay pansexual queer lesbian bisexual straight/heterosexual ...and many more!	"Sexual Preference/Preferences" "Homosexual/Homosexuality" "Choice/Chooses ____" "Lifestyle" As a noun (i.e. "gays", "queers", etc.)	"[Name] is [sexual orientation]" Person-first or community-centered language: "People who are [sexual orientation]", "Queer community", etc.